

Quiet Paddle On The Upper Santa Fe

May 20, 2017

Thanks to Sandy Hubbard for this extraordinary and beautiful photo of the river.

Events director Sandy Hubbard writes the following about the OSFR paddle today May 20 2017.

This was a nice leisurely paddle on the Santa Fe above Oleno State Park. Though we could only go a short distance up Olustee Creek, it was lovely. With such low water there were many rock ledge banks exposed and we had lunch on this one which was shaded. It was a peaceful and beautiful day.

Participants included Maria Felder, Keven Hunter, Mindy Underberger, Sandy, Terry and Andy Phelan, and photographer Blake Dees.

Comments by OSFR historian Jim Tatum.

-A river is like a life: once taken, it cannot be brought back-
